London Police Control Vietnam War Protests

LONDON (AP) — Police on Sunday contained and controlled the largest demonstrations against the Vietnam war ever held in London and repelled a small attack on the U.S. Embassy without using nightsticks.

The only serious damage reported was not in London but at the John F. Kennedy Memorial at Runnymede, west of the capital. An explosion Saturday night split the seven-ton stone slab down the middle.

Police estimated about 30,000 persons marched through London, all but a few hundred peacefully. Some 7,000 demonstrated in Grosvenor Square, site of the American Embassy, and 200 to 300 extremists broke away for a flying wedge attack on the big white building.

As thick cordons of police barred their way, the red-helmeted Maoists and anarchists threw firecrackers at mounted police waiting in reserve. Some hurled banner poles as spears. Then they charged the police lines with iron pipes.

The police slowly pushed and shoved the militants back, penning them into the southwest corner of the square and stopping any attempt to break out. Gradually the young demonstrators ran out of steam and drifted away. London was quiet again by 9 p.m.

Casualty figures were low. Five policemen and about 40 demonstrators received medical treatment, although hundreds more had minor cuts and bruises.

Thirty-nine demonstrators were arrested, for carrying chains, sticks and bottles as "offensive weapons" and for a brief burst of window-smashing and bottle-throwing in the exclu-

S. Vietnamese Smash Veteran N. Regiment

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese infantrymen smashed into troops from a veteran North Vietnamese regiment that spearheaded two offensives on Saigon this year, government military headquarters announced today.

A government spokesman said 32 soldiers from North Vietnam's Dong Nai Regiment were killed and 13 others captured in heavy fighting Sunday 24 miles north of Saigon. The prisoners included a battalion deputy commander and a company commander, the spokesman said.

The South Vietnamese troops also seized 21 weapons in the battle and turned up two munitions stockpiles in the surrounding area that included 400 mortar shells, bazooka-type rockets and grenades.

Six South Vietnamese were reported killed and 20 wounded. It was the first time a sizable force of the Dong Nai Regiment had been in action since last May 5, when the regiment was badly mauled in an attack on Saigon. Its reappearance indicated it may be back to full strength now and orders for a third offensive against Saigon.

It was one of three actions reported around Saigon. U.S. and South Vietnamese forces killed another 38 enemy soldiers and seized 27 weapons in two clashes 10 and 12 miles south of the capital. Two Americans were wounded, and no South Vietnamese losses were reported.

Meanwhile, American bombers kept up their strikes on North Vietnamese supply lines north of the demilitarized zone, and speculation about a halt in the bombing developed when U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker met again with President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Thieu is balking at some parts of the American proposal, and South Vietnamese officials have hinted that if the Johnson administration goes ahead on its own, the Saigon regime will charge a sellout to affect the U.S. presidential election.

The North Vietnamese delegation at the Paris peace talks canceled its weekly news conference today for the second week in succession, and again there was speculation—as there was last Monday—that Hanoi did not want to do anything that might interfere with the negotiations over the American proposal.

The month-long lull in sustained combat continued.

Wallace Loses 5 Pct. In Poll

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — His popularity in the political polls showing a decided dip, George C. Wallace will spend the final week of the presidential campaign wooing voters who have given his third party candidacy its national dimension.

The former Alabama governor, apparently feeling his Deep South electoral base secure, will concentrate his efforts in the remaining days before the election in border states and large industrial cities of the East and Midwest.

He begins the swing today with a rally in Hannibal, Mo., and a visit to the old home place of Mark Twain, then a speech in Mark Twain oil city of Beaumont, Tex.

Other stops on his final week's schedule include Detroit, Philadelphia and, tentatively, Chicago, as well as Enid, Okla., Wheeling, W.Va., and Hagerstown, Md.

Administrator Rejects Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — A new plan to get the city's 1.1 million public school children back in classes has been offered by teachers' union president Albert Shanker and rejected by the administrator of a controversial Brooklyn district.

The administrator, Rhody McCoy, today called the latest Shanker proposal "just another way of creating pandemonium."

Meetings were set this afternoon by the central Board of Education and the local governing board of the Brooklyn district.

Meanwhile, the city's labor picture brightened as firemen announced they were following policemen in ending their work slowdowns.

Shanker's conditions Sunday night for ending the walkout by the 55,000-member United Federation of Teachers coincided with previous proposals by Mayor John V. Lindsay and the Board of Education.

Saying some of the proposals "are negotiable" and that it appeared "to be the only way out of the situation," Shanker listed the following conditions:

Continue the temporary suspension of Brooklyn's Ocean Hill-Brownsville governing board and its unit administrator, Rhody McCoy; temporarily closing Junior High School 271, scene of violence and threats against about 80 unwanted union teachers; letting those teachers teach in the district's seven other schools; and temporary suspension of the district's eight principals.

Before striking for the third time Oct. 14, Shanker and the union's executive board rejected proposals by the board and Lindsay which contained all points except dismissal of the principals.

Cosmonaut Orbits As Sister-Ship Lands

MOSCOW (AP) — The unmanned Soviet space ship Soyuz 2 landed in the Soviet Union today after three days in space, Tass announced, but Cosmonaut Georgy Beregovoy continued in orbit in the sister ship Soyuz 3.

Beregovoy had followed the unmanned ship in tandem around the earth for two days and during this period had maneuvered his Soyuz 3 so as to approach the pilotless sister ship.

If any attempt was made to link up the manned and unmanned ships, something the Russians have not done, it was not announced. Tass, the Soviet news agency, said Soyuz 2's "program for checking its system and for joint maneuvering and approach of the spaceships Soyuz 2 and Soyuz 3 was fully carried out."

Meanwhile, Beregovoy was reported to have completed his 33rd orbit of the earth, and "all the systems of the ship continue

Czech Students Storm Palace

PRAGUE (AP) — Several hundred Czechoslovak students shouting "better dead than shame" marched on Prague Castle today as President Ludvik Svoboda was presiding at a celebration of the 50th anniversary of Czechoslovakia's independence.

Police hastily formed and blocked the students while the gates to the palace courtyard were padlocked.

Several times the crowd, which included many girls, rushed against the police lines but they held.

There had been concern among the leaders of Czechoslovakia's Communist party that students and others might use the anniversary to demonstrate against Soviet occupation of their country and that this would provoke reaction from the Russians. The leaders went to great lengths to make clear that demonstrations might bring Soviet tanks back into the capital.

Soviet radio cars drove through the streets of Prague on the lookout for trouble. Russian plainclothes detectives were also about. A Czechoslovak policeman with a hand radio was stationed at the East German Embassy, which was not closed for the anniversary celebration.

Inside the castle, President Ludvik Svoboda told the country's leaders: "We are commemorating the 50th anniversary of the foundation of the independent Czechoslovak state in a situation that is not easy."

Wallace C. Cameron

W. C. Cameron, Educator, Dies

Wallace Charles (Lars) Cameron, 61, the man who brought more than education to Gladstone as superintendent of schools for the past 25 years, died Sunday of an apparent heart attack.

Death came about 5:30 p.m. at his home at 600 S. 11th St. He was rushed to St. Francis Hospital, but was pronounced dead on arrival.

A native of Gladstone, Cameron was appointed superintendent of schools on April 20, 1943.

He was honored by the community for 25 years of service and leadership at a testimonial dinner last February at the James T. Jones School, where he had his offices. Monday, Feb. 12, was proclaimed "Wallace Cameron Day" in the City of Gladstone.

Besides being an educator in whom Gladstone had the greatest confidence, Cameron's wonderful wit and endless energy in both adult and youth activities permeated through the entire area and Upper Peninsula.

He was in great demand all over the U.P. as a master of ceremonies and over the years he entertained thousands of persons with his trick musical instruments.

Under his leadership, Gladstone constructed the James T. Jones elementary school, completed a major addition and remodeling project at the high school and added a new physical education building to the educational plant.

Wallace C. Cameron was born July 24, 1907 in Gladstone, son of the late Wallace and Emma Cameron. He graduated from Gladstone High School in 1925 and entered Northern Michigan College, Marquette, completing

Defends Agnew On Conflict Of Interest Count

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, appearing suddenly embattled in the final week of his presidential campaign, is defending running mate Spiro T. Agnew against conflict-of-interest charges.

Nixon, making his first network television interview appearance in two years, also suggested directly Sunday night that "people within the White House staff"—but not President Johnson—are trying to achieve a Vietnam bombing halt in an 11th hour effort to boost the candidacy of Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey. He did this in trying to explain an earlier public statement that stirred controversy.

The defensive stance of the GOP candidate, generally regarded as the frontrunner in the campaign, was further underscored by public statements from two top aides attacking a national public opinion poll that, it was suggested, will soon indicate a Humphrey spurt.

Comments On Editorial

Nixon, heading for rallies today in Albany, N. Y., and Pittsburgh, was questioned about Agnew's past business dealings on "Face the Nation" on CBS.

Asked to comment on an editorial Saturday in The New York Times accusing Agnew of "clear and repeated conflicts of interest" and controversial real estate deals, Nixon said:

"This is the lowest kind of gutter politics that a great newspaper could possibly engage in. It is not news that's fit to print."

Agnew, campaigning in San Francisco, had no comment Sunday night.

Contending that the charges against the Republican vice presidential candidate were stale and had been answered two years ago, Nixon said, "A retraction will be demanded of the Times legally" today. He said he was sure any retraction would be printed "back with the corset ads or the classifieds toward the end of the week when nobody will pay any attention."

Believe Agnew Unfit

The Times, in its news pages, subsequently printed a comment by John B. Oakes, editorial page chief:

"The editorial... was a moderately worded expression of some of the reasons for the Times' belief that Mr. Agnew is indeed unfit to be vice president of the United States."

"Amidst all his verbal denunciation Mr. Nixon denies no statement of fact in the editorial except one detail on which he is quite imprecise. As soon as we know exactly which one of Mr. Agnew's conflicts of interest it is that Mr. Nixon challenges, we will of course reinvestigate. If any statement of ours should prove to be in error, we will say so on the editorial page."

The Times editorial questioned the propriety of Agnew's role, as governor of Maryland, in serving as a director of the Chesapeake National Bank of Towson, Md., an association which it said "involved clear and repeated conflicts of interest."

Land Developers

It further alleged: "... as a zoning board member, as chief executive of Baltimore County and as governor of Maryland, Mr. Agnew has been the political ally and financial partner of a group of wealthy land speculators. These businessmen have made sizable fortunes out of developing land in suburban Baltimore over the past 15 years, in part because of favorable zoning and government decisions, and Mr. Agnew's financial net worth has also risen sharply."

Finally, the Times stated that: "In 1965 Mr. Agnew joined with these businessmen in purchasing a tract of land on the probable approach route of a new, parallel span of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge. As governor, he approved this route. In response to public criticism, Gov. Agnew later sold his share of the land."

Challenged One Point

Apparently referring to this transaction, Nixon said that

Congressman Ruppe Cases The Election

War, Inflation And Crime Top Issues

By JEAN WORTH

Congressman Philip E. Ruppe (R-Houghton), seeking a second term in the 11th Michigan District in the Nov. 5 election, thinks that his district has moved ahead economically in general, and that national problems in Washington have deepened.

He views the problems of the incoming administration as posing a very serious test for national leadership.

"The three main areas of national importance are Vietnam and our whole foreign policy concept," said Ruppe, "inflation and the need to establish national spending priorities. Another very high priority item is the need of an effective war on growing crime in this country."

"In the 11th District we need to spur the continuing economic development of Northern Michigan."

War Policy

Ruppe is opposed for re-election by Raymond Clevenger, Sault Ste. Marie attorney, who was the congressman in 1965-66.

Philip E. Ruppe

"I continue to call for a de-Americanization of the war in Vietnam as I did when I returned from that country in May, 1967," said Ruppe. "After that trip I reported on the corruption so obvious in civilian government; corruption that was well noted in Southern Vietnamese armed forces. And in the inability of the South Vietnamese government to command the loyalties of the civilian population, which I held to be the key to winning the war, and ridding the country of the Viet Cong and their North Vietnamese allies."

"We must return to the Eisenhower policy of giving aid and technical assistance to countries threatened by communism, but we should not directly intervene militarily if the affected country is not making a total effort to solve its own internal revolution."

"We should first use our diplomatic and economic power to assist any country fighting the communist menace. I have always voted to prohibit any foreign aid whatsoever from going to countries that trade with North Vietnam or otherwise support its war effort against our American fighting men."

Aid To Hanoi

"My opponent voted in both 1966 and 1967 to continue giving foreign aid and bargain sales of our farm products to countries that traded, aided in and supported the North Vietnamese invasion of South Vietnam."

"This is wrong and not only a misuse of the American tax dollar, but also an affront to the 500,000 Americans fighting in Vietnam."

"In fiscal 1968 the Johnson Administration racked up a deficit of $25 billion, an almost astronomical figure and one which caused prices to the American consumer to rise an average of 5 per cent. This represented a substantial loss in buying power to millions of Americans and a particularly heavy burden for individuals on pensions, limited incomes and Social Security. We must make a determination where we as a nation wish to spend our resources."

"As an example, my opponent voted for foreign aid spending of over $3 billion in 1966 and over $2.5 billion in 1967. I voted against foreign aid spending in a time when we are already spending $30 billion a year in Vietnam."

Crime Control

"We must make a strenuous effort to limit military expenditures, cut duplication in our space program, and streamline and modernize government bureaucracy."

"I look forward to fully carrying out the provisions of the Safe Streets Act, which I supported last year in Congress. This act calls for the use of wiretapping against the organized criminal element and prohibits individuals like Stokely Carmichael and Rap Brown from traveling from one state to another for the express purpose of starting riots."

"The act authorizes the spending of $400 million over 2 years to strengthen local and state law enforcement. I contrast my support of this law with my opponent's vote against the District of Columbia Crime Bill two years ago. I would have supported the District of Columbia Crime Bill to help reduce the shocking crime growth in our nation's capital, which reached an incredible total of 50,000 major crimes last year."

For Draft Reform

"Our draft laws need reform and I will continue to support changes which would make deferment eligibility requirements uniform throughout the country. Today an individual might well be deferred in one county in our state and not in another. And deferment requirements vary widely from state to state. Exposure to the draft should be limited to age 19, not extended until the individual reaches 26. We should continue to push for a volunteer army so that the services can retain technical specialists and professional career men."

"We need election reforms to insure honest elections and full reporting by candidates and organizations to guard against undue pressures and commitments."

"I will continue to support measures vital to the economic stability of the 11th District. I have already introduced legislation to restrict iron ore imports and safeguard our vital iron ore industry from foreign imports produced under low wage levels."

Dairy Import Curb

"I have introduced legislation calling for a halt in the dumping of milk and dairy products into the American market. These products are often produced under unsanitary conditions that would not be tolerated in Michigan."

"I am pleased that my bill to grant Federal Housing Administration financing to vacation homes was made a part of last year's housing act. This will stimulate our tourist industry and develop a tax base for local government."

"At the present time the federal government returns less than 8 cents an acre to local units of government for school and road development for each of the 1.8 million acres of federal ownership in this area. I have introduced legislation calling for a minimum of 25 cents per acre to be returned to local government for school and road purposes, or, in the alternative, one-fourth of the revenue from timber sales if the later figure is greater."

Balanced Economy

"I have introduced legislation calling for the appointment of a commission on balanced economic development, to develop government policy, to encourage industry to move into the rural areas of our country, develop new jobs and expand our industrial base. This bill has already passed the senate."

"I strongly supported federal assistance to our elementary and high schools an expanded vocational education bill and voted to restore $90 million in school aid cuts in areas affected by government ownership or facilities."

"I am proud of the lead role I took in the restoration of funds for the lamprey control program in Lake Huron after funding cuts had been forced on the Great Lakes Fishery Commission. If this battle is not successful in Lake Huron the lamprey will again be a menace to fishing in Lake Michigan and Lake Superior."

Interstate Act

"The Interstate Highway Act has several glaring defects and should be amended after its scheduled expiration date in 1972. This legislation requires that 105 out of a total of 140 million dollars of federal assistance for Michigan highways be spent solely on the Interstate Highways System. I favor liberalization of these provisions so that Michigan may have a greater share of these dollars to spend at its discretion on our primary and secondary road system and thereby fund the increasing highway needs of this district."

"The Interstate Highway Act has proven to be an economic hardship and injustice to the people of Northern Michigan because Senator McNamara, then chairman of the Senate Public Works Committee refused in 1956 when the Interstate Highway Act was passed to include the financing of existing bridges such as the Mackinac Bridge under the act."

"This decision has meant 12 years of high tolls for the people of this district."

Mines Closing

Areas of the 11th District which need economic assistance include the Iron River area which has been affected by decreasing demand for underground nonpelletized iron ore. And to a degree, by iron ore and steel imports. This area will face critical challenges in the next several years and I shall assist the community leadership in their contacts with government agencies such as the Economic Development Administration and the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission."

"The federal government must join private industry in searching for solutions to the problems Iron County faces."

Kincheloe Problem

In the Sault Ste. Marie area the Economic Development Administration is conducting a study of possible uses for Kincheloe Air Force Base facilities at the anticipated closing in 1969-70. I will continue to work with the community's Base Closure Committee to insure that government agencies give full cooperation and support to community efforts to find new uses for this facility."

"I have received assurances from the Department of Defense that at least a portion of the base housing facilities will be used by military units beyond the scheduled transfer of the base's air units."

"I can see a boom in Escanaba, substantial economic growth in Marquette, growth of our pelletized iron ore industry, and significant growth in the Mead Corp., which will not only provide jobs in the Delta County area but provide a market for the growing surplus of pulpwoods throughout the Upper Peninsula."

Jackie's Decision

The marriage of Jacqueline Kennedy and Aristotle Socrates Onassis has caused a great emotional flap in America. Most Americans were forced to reassess their impression of Jackie and they probably now have a truer perception of what she's really like, but in the process there was a bit of deterioration of the American dream. She was at pinnacle. She had wed brilliantly, become First Lady of America, top honor for a woman in the world, had come through the assassination of her President husband with American respect for her deepened and affection increased. And then she married Onassis.

There was world shock at the news. Newspapers and TV networks which learned of it several days before the Boston Herald-Traveler broke the story simply couldn't believe it at first exposure. A London daily headlined: "Jackie How Could You?" Richard Cardinal Cushing, an old friend of the Kennedy family, said it was "nonsense" to think that Jackie had excommunicated herself from the Roman Catholic Church by her marriage to Onassis and he asked for charity in public view of her action. The Vatican appeared to take no such permissive view of the marriage and experts on canon law said the church considered her as living with another woman's husband.

The world expected Jackie to remarry, but it came as a smacker when her choice was a man at least 23 years older than she is (John Kennedy was 12 years older). And especially a man who had carried on a notorious affair for 10 years with opera diva Maria Callas which he terminated only 5 months ago. And a divorcee who is world noted for his flamboyant way of living, no intellectual, no humanitarian, no uplifter, but an entrepreneurial genius and a man of considerable personal charm who has made his great yacht a carrier for the international jet set. The Jackie watchers who have tried to analyze her reasons for accepting Onassis suggest that shocked Americans are just now learning what the Kennedy family has known all along, that Jackie is a jet setter at heart.

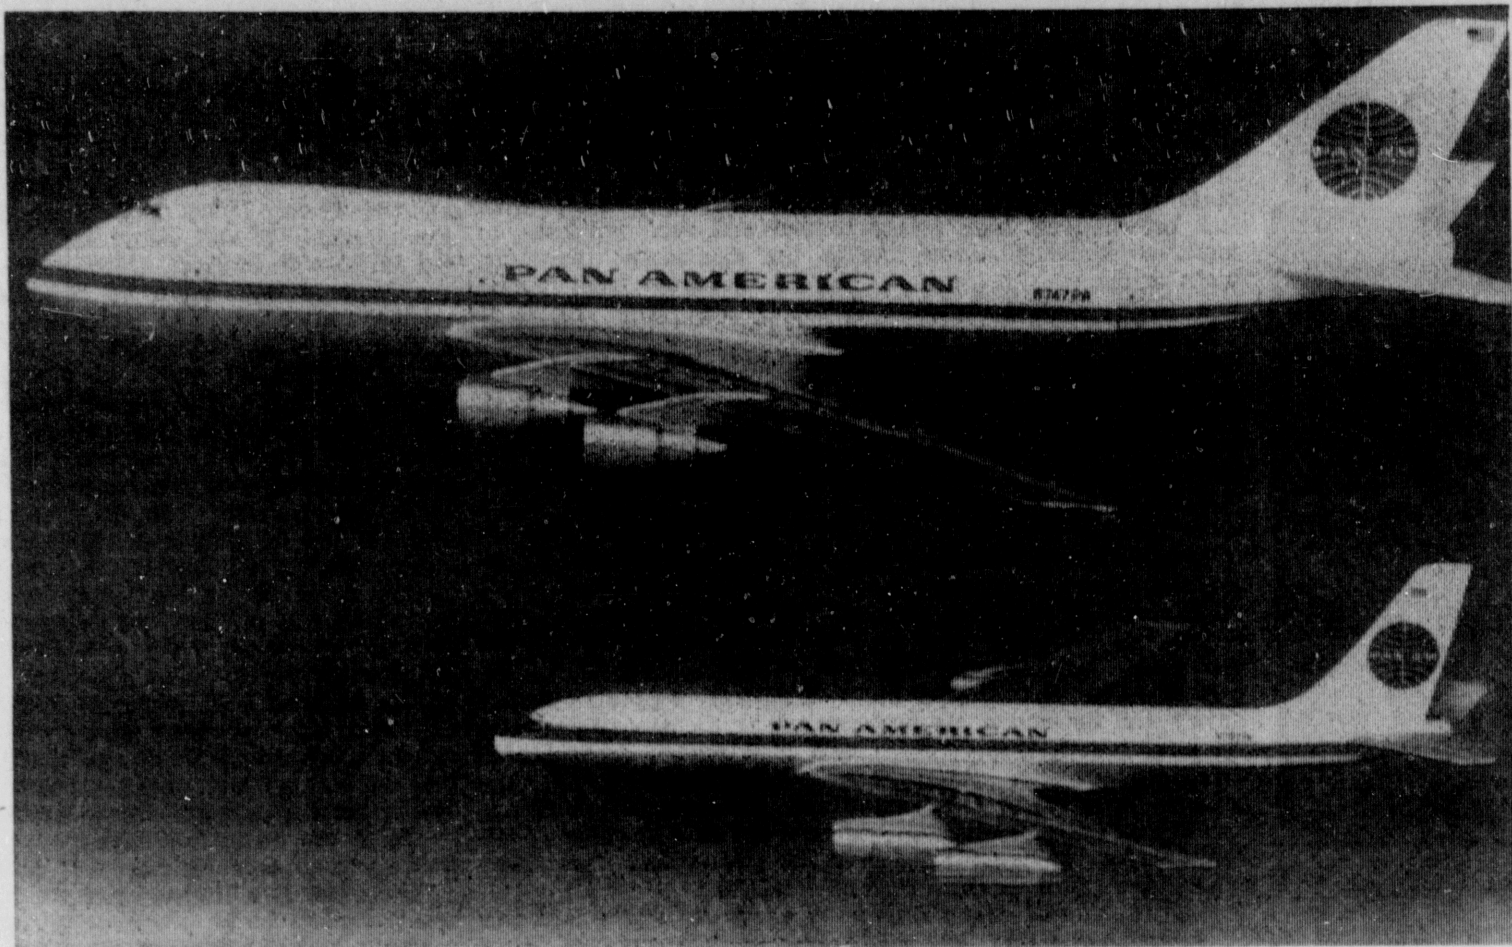

Being mistress of Scorpions at this time of her life is more satisfying for her than being the nationally idolized widow of President Kennedy. Onassis is able to shelter her from the world with his own huge retinue and his pleasure domes and to make her Hostess No. 1; the Jet Set's Perle Mesta. She has a fortune of about $20 million, but among the Beautiful People even a quarter million income a year can be less than sufficient to cover all possible jet expenditures. It would destroy our last illusion about Jackie, however, if it were true that only Onassis' multi-millions influenced her. That's most unlikely. He's viewed by at least some of her friends as a father figure and security in a life in which she's had a cruel buffeting in the loss of her husband and then of his brother, Robert, who gave her and her children great comfort in the period after the assassination of the President. She insisted upon her right of privacy, but her friends say that Jackie doesn't want only privacy. If that were all, she could have lived so she could have had it, but she rather deliberately put herself in situations where she came under the flashlights and the cameras. She's expected to be very happy in her new role.

There used to be a feeling that nobility obliged the noble to conduct themselves nobly. Jackie has given the world an example of a young woman "who has everything" choosing a way of life that to most of us seems frivolous in a world that desperately needs leadership and charity and respect for virtue. Young Miss American's dream of being like Jackie Kennedy changes now.

BERRY'S WORLD

TWO AND ONE-HALF TIMES more passengers will be carried by Pan American World Airways' Boeing 747 Superjet, top, than by today's Boeing 707-321B jet transport. Pan Am will introduce the 360-passenger 747 into scheduled service in late 1969, 11 years after the airline inaugurated jet flights with the 707.

U.S. Entry Into Jet Age Marking 10th Anniversary

Today marks the 10th anniversary of a major American entry into the jet age. 10 years ago, a Boeing 707, bearing the insignia of Pan American World Airways, inaugurated scheduled jet service from New York to Paris under the American flag. The dawn of the jet age was the beginning of a revolution not only in transportation but in geo-economics. The world was made to shrink in size with the speed of the jet and expand in accessibility to the average citizen. Man's relationship to the globe in terms of time, distance, speed and cost would never be exactly the same again. In the process of this revolution, the airlines emerged as a potent force in the national economy. With $6.9 billion of revenue, over $2 billion of annual capital expenditures, 132 million passengers, 3.4 billion ton miles of cargo and 276,000 employees, air transportation became in one short decade America's seventh largest industry. Most U.S.-Built Today, 82 per cent or four out of five of the world's jet fleet, now in service or on order, are American-built planes. Over the last decade, the sale of U.S. aircraft and parts overseas has added over $3.5 billion to the plus side of our balance of payments ledger. What's more, sale of aircraft to foreign carriers is projected at some $13 billion before the next decade is out. The jet has also been one of the prime reasons for the growth of air travel. In 1967 alone, international tourism and travel — the largest single item in world trade — reached a record $18.63 billion. Of this total, $4.5 billion was spent on transportation. The achievements of the jet decade involved the solving of a hangar full of problems and the risk investment of billions of dollars. The jets required longer runways. Sound suppressors had to be mounted on the engines. Millions had to be poured into jet ground and maintenance equipment. Critics claimed passengers could not be found to fill the seats. They warned that the airlines would spend themselves into oblivion. One magazine at the time termed the jet venture a flight from reality. Colossal Success Pan Am's initial order for a fleet of Boeing 707s and Douglas DC-8s in the fall of 1955 was hailed by some as a milestone in the advancement of aviation and regarded by others as a colossal gamble. Airline studies, however, indicated that the jets would pay off through their ability to offer the public more speed and safety, comfort and dependability at lower rates. If the history of air transport in the past decade is evidence, the jet has, indeed, been a colossal success. The economy of the jet enabled fares to come down, although the value of service to the public went up. When Pan Am made its first jet run from New York to Paris in 1958, for example, the economy fare was $489.80 roundtrip. Today, the basic economy fare between New York and Paris is $440.80, the 21-day excursion fare is $331, and the group inclusive tour fare dips as low as $250 roundtrip. Over the last 10 years, Pan Am's average revenue, or yield, per passenger mile on the New York-Paris run has dropped from 7.25 cents a mile to just over five cents a mile. More Travel Within the last five years the cost to the average air cargo shipper was cut by about 26 per cent to a new low yield of roughly 20 cents per ton-mile. Lower rates and the speed and capacity of the jets served to broaden the market for international air travel. Pan Am estimates that it will carry 9,500,000 passengers in 1968 — more than three times the 2,900,000 it carried in 1958. More spectacular than the growth of passenger travel is the growth of Pan Am's air cargo. The jet decade has led to an increase of 450 per cent in tonnage carried by Pan Am. What's more, revenue ton miles (a ton mile is one ton flown one mile) have jumped nearly 600 per cent to an estimated 678,720,000 revenue ton miles in 1968. Pan Am's fleet has grown from six to 157 Jet Clippers in the decade. In the same time span, the number of Pan Am employees has risen from 24,700 to 48,000. The second stage of the jet age will begin in the fall of 1969, when Pan Am becomes the first airline to fly the 747 Superjet. Pan Am's Superjet, which will not only fly faster but higher than today's jets, will carry 360 passengers.

Auto Licenses Cost Increased

The Michigan Department of State has begun collecting higher weight taxes on the state's 5-million vehicles. Commercial plate sales began Oct. 1. Car plates sales don't start until Nov. 15. The higher license plate fees were authorized by the Legislature as part of a good roads package adopted in the extra session of 1967. The package also included a one-cent-per-gallon increase in the gasoline tax to seven cents already in effect. "Rates on passenger cars will go from 35 to 55 cents per hundredweight," Hare noted. "But this simply restores a rate that dates back to 1925. The fee was cut to 35 cents per hundredweight in 1934 as a depression measure and has been in effect since." The rate on trucks and other commercial vehicles will go up an average of 10 per cent. Rates for such vehicles, however, got two 10 per cent boosts — on heavy vehicles only in 1951 and on all vehicles in 1955 — while passenger car rates remained unchanged. Under the new law, trucks weighing 8,000 pounds or less will continue to be charged on an empty-weight basis, which heretofore has applied to all highway haulers, regardless of size. But heavier trucks and truck-trailer combinations will come under a new "elected vehicle weight" system, in effect with variations in 37 states. In both cases, however, rates will rise approximately 10 per cent. Under the elected vehicle weight system, the commercial haulers weighing up to 130,000 pounds or more will specify the maximum loads they will carry. This maximum will be specified on stickers attached to the license plates. Cubans Scrape Up Junk For Dollars MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuba's neighborhood vigilance groups —gathering jewels, old bottles, paper and precious stamps—have collected more than $187,000 in the Communist nation's drive to gather hard currency for world trade, Radio Havana said Friday night. In addition, the government radio station said the vigilance committees are checking power meters to determine how Cubans are responding to urgings to conserve electrical energy. Jim: "A match point player might well have tried the best percentage play for the over-trick and wound up just making his contract or possibly going down one."

Oswald: "He would win the first spade in dummy. Cash the hearts in dummy to discard one diamond and take a club finesse. West would win with either the king or the queen and lead a second spade. South would win that in dummy also and lose a second club finesse. Then if West decided to underlead his ace of diamonds, East would win a diamond trick and might give West a club ruff for the setting trick."

Jim: "In my opinion that South player would deserve everything that happened to him. Even in a match point game he should be happy enough to have gotten the trump lead and would play safe for his contract."

Ann Landers Farewell Letter Makes Him Think

Dear Ann Landers: I am a boy 13 years of age. A few days ago I did something my parents did not approve of. My punishment was that I had to stay home while everyone went for a picnic. I decided they were terrible to treat me like that and I started to pack my suitcase and run away. After I finished packing I decided to write a farewell letter. I thought I'd better tell them why I was running away and, to be fair, maybe I should apologize for a few things I had done. Well, after I started to write, I thought of a lot of things I ought to apologize for. I also started to thank them for the nice things they had done for me over the years and there were an awful lot of them. By the time I finished writing I unpacked my suitcase and tore up the letter. I suggest that all kids who think they want to run away from home sit down and write a letter to their folks. Then they won't go. A ROTTEN KID WITH GREAT PARENTS Dear Kid: You don't sound rotten to me. You sound like a good guy who has a lot of common sense as well as humility. Thanks for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: My sister and I are both middle aged. We live together. Neither of us has ever married. Here is her history: Rena has been fired from three jobs for stealing. She has taken money from the purses of friends and relatives. She has swiped blank checks from my checkbook and forged my name. She has charged expensive items (like a fur jacket and a three-piece suit) to my account. I know Rena's problem is our mother. She was a tyrant who never had a kind word for her children. Mother especially hated Rena and she made no secret of it. My sister went to a psychiatrist for three weeks but quit because she wasn't "getting any place." Now the question: Is it wrong of me to want to live apart from her? Am I my sister's keeper? Must I stay with Rena till the end of my days, paying her bills, letting her forge my name to checks, paying for the things she steals, in order to keep her out of jail? (They call her a kleptomaniac.) What do you say, Ann? — DEPRESSED

Dear Depressed: I say your sister is sick but you don't owe her your life. Perhaps if you move out and she can no longer depend on you to save her hide, she'll straighten around. Some people jump only when they know there's a net under them. Urge Rena to try another therapist. You can do nothing more for her beyond that—so do something for yourself, please, and clear out.

What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits—the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Sex—Ten Ways To Cool It." Send 50c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. © Publishers-Hall Syndicate

Health Dept. Ups Record Fee

LANSING (AP) —It will cost double the previous fee starting Nov. 15 to find out from the State Health Department if you officially were born, died, married, divorced or adopted. The fee was upped by the 1968 Legislature from $1 to $2 to check on such documents as birth certificates. The $2 will pay for a search of records of three years. An additional charge of 50 cents will be levied for each additional year searched. Even if the record cannot be located, the fee will be kept by the state to pay for the search of records. In addition, special searches for research projects will be paid for at a fee to be set by the director of public health to meet costs. The new law also specifies that fees charged by local registrars shall be the same as those charged by the state.

Geese Scarce, Bluebills Good

An abundance of rain and strong southerly winds have been a deterring factor on movement of fishermen. It isn't choice weather for the upland bird hunters either except that it has brought the leaves down from the trees and flattened out the bracken fern. The first heavy frost of the season hit the eastern U.P. on Oct. 21st. About 90 per cent of the leaves are down in the hardwood forests.

A number of good flights of bluebills have been noted. Blacks and mallards are still found, principally in small lakes and ponds and along the creeks and rivers. Geese are scarce to date.

Coho (Silver) Salmon: Some coho, mostly males are still coming into the Thompson Creek area, Schoolcraft County. A few small coho are showing up in West Bay at Grand Marais, Alger County.

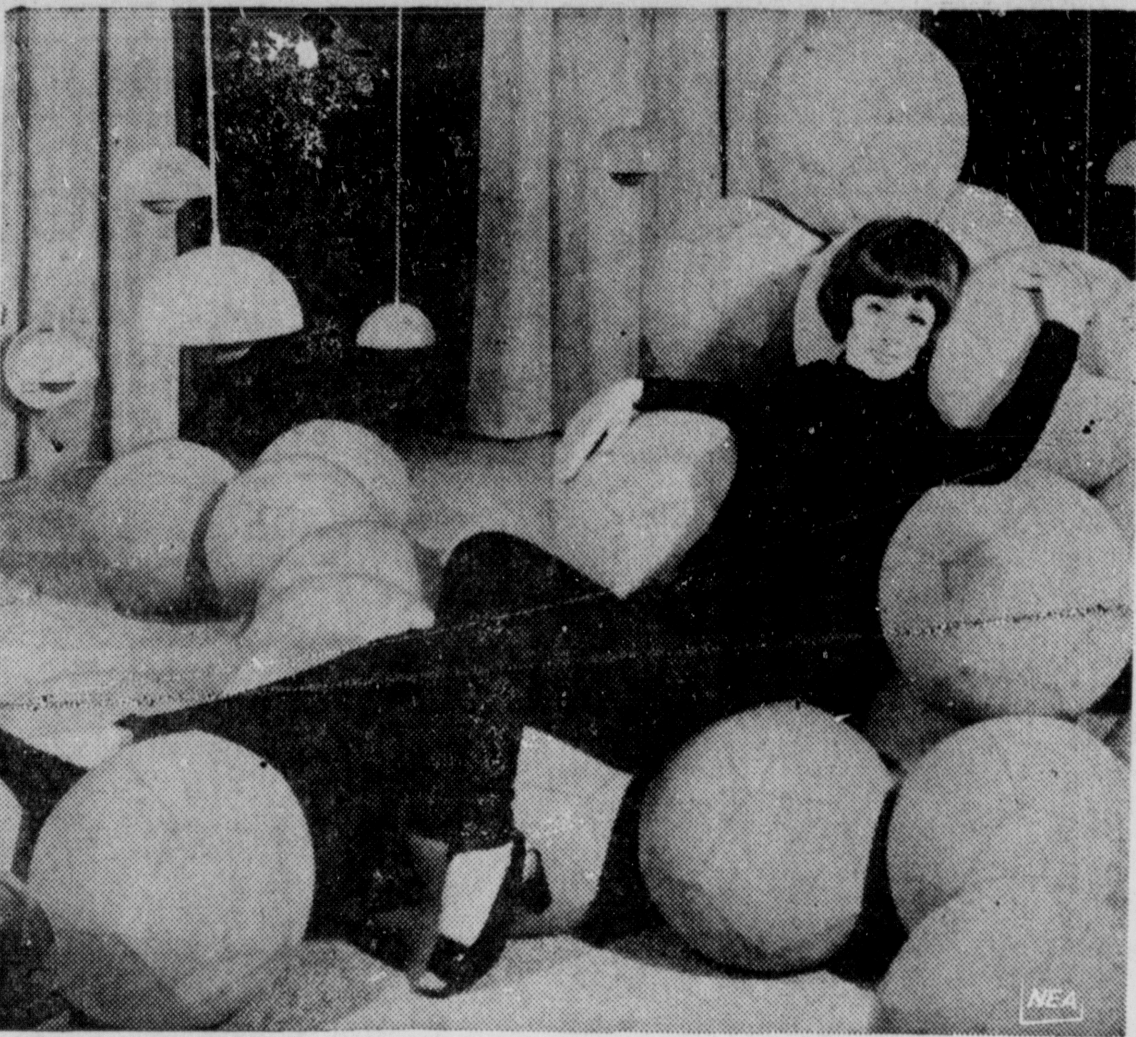

Rainbow (Steelhead) Trout: East and West Bays at Grand Marais are producing some nice bows. An 11 pound fish was caught by Duane Mitchell, Grand Marais (He also caught 2 - 6½ pound lake trout and 2 - 10 inch coho) off the breakwater; some rainbow are being taken at Pendills and Halfaday Creek. Good catches of 12-16 inch fish are reported near the mouth of the Pine and Carp rivers and a few large fish in the Black River, Mackinac County; some nice fish in the lower portion of the Two Hearted River and in Lake Superior off the mouth of the two Hearted River and Little Lake Harbor. Fair catches are being made in Camp 8 Lake, Luce County and Dodge-Island lakes and Dutch Fred Lake, Schoolcraft County.

Splake: Good catches are reported from Benny and Pretty lakes, Luce County and Dutch Fred Lake, Schoolcraft County.

Brown Trout: Some nice fish are caught off Pendills Creek, Chippewa County and Thompson Creek, Schoolcraft County.

Lake Trout: Good catches reported from Grand Marais where fish are being caught off the breakwater; and at Pendill's Creek where many fish are caught by casting from the shore.

Walleye: Good catches are being made in the St. Mary's River in the vicinity of Munusong Bay, Chippewa County; Tahquamenon River below Newberry and Manistique Lake, Luce County.

Tables Switched On Famed Host

Hundreds Dine Pat Hayes

Pat Hayes was honored Sunday evening at a birthday dinner party in the House of Ludington to which he was invited to hear about the community's appreciation of his civic efforts and especially his creation of the modern image of the House of Ludington.

The hotel is the most famed in the Upper Peninsula and everywhere acknowledged as one of Michigan's finest dining places.

More than 200 persons attended the invitation affair sponsored by members of the hotel's Wheel Room luncheon group: Don Brandt, John Walch, Ray Taylor, Jack Burroughs, Jerry Becvar, Tom Aros, Irving Olsen, Clifford Perras, Phil McCotter and Ralph Norton.

The Rev. Charles Carmody, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, was toastmaster and spread shamrock humor over the proceedings. He announced that Pat had elected to give his birthday party purse of more than $300 to the Bishop Noa Home for the Elderly, and noted that Sister Pat of the Home was on hand to pick it up immediately. "They don't wait at the Noa Home," he said.

Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, sketched Pat Hayes' life and development of the Ludington. "People who think that the Ludington is too expensive have never paid what it cost to feed them in this hotel's style," said Worth. "Pat always subsidizes it."

"He behaves like royalty and has artists in residence, like an Irish Medici. He rides in a glass elevator, like Cinderella, and has Waterford crystal table service, but he worked out $60,000 that he owed on the Ludington and even he doesn't know how much he's poured into it since; some estimate $700,000."

"He has never been on the payroll; there wasn't enough of it to cover him, and he's lived in a room with running water. Everything went into the Ludington and what an establishment he's made of it!"

World War I Flier

"You can see Soapy Williams and George Romney at adjoining tables. Prince Bertil of Sweden has dined here, Cyrus Eaton and several Marshall Fields; Clarence Randall and the Blocks of Inland Steel; Nelson Mead and the other top brass of Mead Corp; the Harnischfeger and all of the governors of Michigan of Pat's time."

"Harold Clement Hayes—he was named for Pope Clement—was born 73 years ago in Dorchester Heights, South Boston. His father was Timothy Hayes, supervisor of bridges and ferries for the City of Boston."

"Pat was in the first Canadian Air Force ground school class at the University of Toronto in World War I and became leader of Squadron 64 based near Valenciennes in France. He flew Sopwith Camels and SE5's and his mementoes include 16 stitches in his chin where a bullet creased him."

Kitchen Career

"After the war he joined Albert Pick, the hotel outfitter, in Chicago and at 26 he thought he wouldn't have to work again, as he had acquired several hotel properties, but the Depression ended that. 'I spent 30 years in the kitchen,' said Pat 'and they were the 30 happiest years of my life.'"

"Mercurial, extravagantly generous, immensely and unpredictably Irish, he gives us an inn that is one of the Upper Peninsula's real distinctions."

EMPLOYEES OF THE House of Ludington presented Harold C. (Pat) Hayes, the proprietor, with a silver tea service at the 73rd Birthday party in the Ludington Sunday evening at which more than 200 friends of Pat feted the famed hotelier. Mrs. Lynn Whitney, left, presents Hayes with the tea service after Mrs. Joyce Cuneo, right, had expressed the felicitations of the hotel staff. (Daily Press Photos by Bernard Schultz)

In his public life he has been courageous to the point of recklessness in his effort to help the public. He has increased the sale of tranquilizers, but brightened our lives with his non-conformity and his devotion to the amenities. In an industrial world of nuts and bolts he insists on some old fashioned elegance. May he and his fine Ludington live long and prosper."

Thanks Staff

Hayes responded with thanks to the Wheel Room group, to Mary Dowling, who has been with him for 38 years and Bee Gallagher, who has been with him for 28, and who heads his staff. "Without them and the rest of my loyal staff I couldn't have done it," he said. He also thanked his physician, "who has kept me alive so I can be here tonight."

Mayor Cecil Chase presented a plaque from the City of Escanaba and a framed copy of the resolution of commendation which the council passed. The copper plaque was inscribed in the words of John Voelker, who wrote an article "The House That Pat Built" for the Detroit News which was presented framed as a gift.

Gift From Staff

"This plaque honors Harold 'Pat' Hayes, gentleman, innkeeper incomparable, and dedicated friend of Escanaba and the Upper Peninsula and devoted celebrant of their tradition of unstinting neighborliness and hospitality."

Mrs. Joyce Cuneo of the hotel staff felicitated Hayes for the staff and Mrs. Lynn Whitney presented him with a silver tea service as a gift from the employees.

Father Carmody led the singing of "Happy Birthday, Pat" and Hayes cut a large birthday cake which was served with the dessert. The program followed a cocktail party in the Ludington garage and preceded the dinner.

Judge Of New Court To Be Chosen Nov. 5

Delta County voters will on Nov. 5 elect a judge of the 94th District (Delta County) Court—a new court created with others in Michigan by the Legislature to complete the state's court reform.

The names of two candidates

Ernest L. Olivares

appear on the non-partisan ballot: Ernest L. Olivares and Dean J. Shipman. Both are Escanaba attorneys at law.

The candidate receiving the highest vote will take office on Jan. 1, 1969. He will be paid $18,000 a year by the state, and this can be supplemented by the county up to a total of $27,500.

The court will have a full criminal jurisdiction in misdemeanors and civil jurisdiction up to $3,000, with a six-man jury system. The justices of the peace and the Escanaba Municipal court will be abolished with establishment of the new court. Municipal Judge James Fitzharris is not a District Court candidate. He will continue in private law practice in Escanaba.

The candidates are:

Ernest L. Olivares, 1415 1st Ave. S., with law offices at 1007 Ludington St.

Born in Detroit on Oct. 8, 1922, he graduated from Mt. Clemens High School in 1942, and took his pre-law studies at Wayne State University. He was a night student at the Detroit College of Law where he graduated with a LL.B. degree in 1955.

Before his graduation he was employed in a variety of jobs, ranging from bus driver, to salesman, to clerk in a law firm at the time of his graduation.

He passed the Michigan Bar Examination in Ann Arbor in September, 1955, and was rated in the top 10. He is a member of Gamma Eta Gamm, national law fraternity.

In World War II he was a corporal in the Army Air Corps and served for 27 months in the Pacific, earning nine battle stars and two Presidential Unit citations. He was discharged in July, 1945.

Olivares was associated with State Senator George Steeh, Macomb Democrat, for one and one-half years in his law firm and was in private practice for eight years and was on the executive committee and general counsel of the Macomb County Society of St. Vincent DePaul for six years. In Macomb County he was active in the Boy Scout program.

He served for two and one-half years in the legal department of Douglas Aircraft at Santa Monica, Calif., and was for one and one-half years with Hughes Aircraft as a contract analyst in its Aerospace Division.

Olivares came to the Upper Peninsula in 1967 with the U.P. Legal Services. He left government employment to open his own private law office in Escanaba.

Dean J. Shipman of 510 S. 11th St. is a partner in the law firm of Strom, Hoehn & Shipman.

Born in Charlotte, Mich., on Oct. 8, 1931, he is the son of Joseph Shipman, now of East Lansing, a former Escanaba High School faculty member, and the late Doris Shipman.

He graduated from Escanaba High School in 1949 with honors including National Honor Society, Reserve Officers Training Corps scholarship, and Regents Alumni Scholarship to the University of Michigan.

Soo Hill School Entered Sunday

A custodian at Soo Hill School may have frightened off an intruder or intruders who entered the building after breaking a window in the building, State Police reported.

Officers said Jerry DeRusha entered a door on one end of the building and noticed a self-closing door open at the other end of the corridor. Officers said DeRusha gave chase, but was unable to locate anyone.

Entry to the building was gained by breaking a pane of glass in the boiler room, then opening the window, troopers said. Nothing was found to be missing.

State Police also are investigating a breaking and entering at Perkins High School. Don Stevenson of Perkins reported the breaking and entering Sunday. Officers said pins from a door had been removed to gain entry to the building, but again nothing was discovered missing.

Lawmakers Eligible For Other Elected Offices

LANSING (AP)—Of the five statewide proposals which will be on the Nov. 5 ballot, the last one is probably the least discussed and the least understood.

But although the legal mechanics of Proposition Five are complex, the result of its approval by voters is simple: It would allow members of the Legislature to run for other state offices.

Lawmakers now are ineligible to run for state office during the terms for which they are elected to the House or Senate because of an attorney general's interpretation of the State Constitution which the Michigan Supreme Court has upheld.

Two legislators have seen their political ambitions stymied by the ruling in the past two years. That's why lawmakers put Proposition Five on the ballot.

In 1967, State Rep. Melvin DeStigter, R-Hudsonville, tried to run for a vacant State Senate seat left by the death of Sen. Harold Volkema, R-Holland. He was told by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley that, under the Constitution, he was ineligible.

Struck Down

DeStigter then sponsored a bill which attempted to overturn Kelley and the measure became law this year. But it was promptly struck down by the Supreme Court in a case involving a second legislator.

Sen. Robert Richardson, R-Saginaw, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, was told by Kelley that despite the new law, he could not run for a Saginaw County circuit judgeship. Kelley noted the new law did not change the Constitution, and the Supreme Court agreed.

Under Kelley's interpretation of the Constitution, a lawmaker cannot seek another state office—although he is free to run for a federal or local post—even if he resigns from the Legislature.

If voters approve Proposition Five next week, legislators would be eligible to become candidates whether they resign or not. Under another constitutional provision, which would not be changed by the proposition, they would be required to resign before taking the other office.

The constitutional provision which Proposition Five would amend states: "No person elected to the Legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state from . . . any . . . state authority during the term for which he is elected."

Kelley's ruling is that this forbids a lawmaker to be elected to another office, since election by the people is, in effect, appointment by a state authority.

Election Not Appointment

Proposition Five would simply add this sentence to the existing provision: "Election to public office by vote of the electors is not a civil appointment."

Legislators would still be ineligible to be appointed by the governor, Legislature or other "state authority" (except for the electorate) to other offices until their legislative terms expire.

Here are some of the pro and con arguments cited by nonpartisan organizations which have analyzed Proposition Five:

FOR: Making legislators ineligible deprives voters of the opportunity to elect experienced persons and to promote those who have served well in Lansing.

AGAINST: Legislators are chosen with the understanding that they will represent their districts for terms of specified length; the voters are entitled to have them serve out their terms.

FOR: Why should members of the Senate and House be singled out by this special prohibition? Other state officers, as well as private citizens, are eligible to become candidates for positions which are closed to lawmakers.

AGAINST: The purpose of the existing constitutional provision—and it's a good one—is to prevent lawmakers from using their legislative powers to create lucrative jobs with themselves in mind as candidates to fill them.

Girls Win Share Of Livestock Medals

By JACQUELINE KORONA

DETROIT (AP) — The care and feeding of pigs and steers—a task for young ladies? Sure is.

Of the more than 250 young people out to take top honors at the Detroit Junior Livestock Show — opening today at the Michigan State Fairgrounds — an estimated one-third are girls.

And "defending champion exhibitors" are Nancy Diuble, 16, of Ann Arbor, and Brenda Bussing, 13, of Coldwater.

Nancy will be after her fourth championship when she parades her black Angus steer before the judge. Her previous champions were sold at auction after each show, and sale prices for the three totaled more than $7,000.

A Saline High School sophomore, Nancy is keeping her earnings for college. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Diuble.

Brenda, a Quincy eighth grader, has showed grand champions in the Detroit show's swine division. Her Hampshires won top honors in 1966 and 1967.

Judge Wednesday

Brenda's prize swine — The two totaled some $1,000 at sale — were groomed after school and on weekends, just as were the ones she'll be showing this year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bussing.

Also entered in this phase of livestock competition are market lambs.

The judging takes place Wednesday, with champions determined by midday and awards presented that night at a special banquet honoring the young champion exhibitors. Champion live animals are sold Thursday at auction.

But that's not all there is to the four-day livestock show, sponsored by the Michigan 4-H clubs — which are backed by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service—and individuals and business firms interested in encouraging youth in the livestock industry.

Judge Carcass

Judges — experts from MSU and neighboring states—inspect and place animals for processing in the "carcass competition."

Steers, swine and lambs entered in this division first are judged "on the hoof," then slaughtered and judged again. "They're judged on the basis of the amount of edible meat and what is the best-selling carcass which has the greatest amount of meat the consumer would want," explains one extension specialist.

"This is more the education part of the show," he continues. "The youth get to see what kind of animals make the best-selling meat when they are butchered."

"For instance," he adds, "packing houses and chain stores want more lean meat with small marbling (fat) through the meat. They want little veins of fat that make the meat juicy, but not great big hunks around the outside of the flesh."

Youth interested in this type of competition get a chance to compare notes with the champs, see how the winning animals were cared for and maybe revamp their own methods.

Ralph R. Reed Former News Editor Dies

HIGHLAND PARK (AP) — Ralph R. Reed, state editor for the Detroit News for 26 years and well known throughout Michigan, died Friday night in his apartment. He was 72.

Reed, had worked for the News 36 years when he retired in 1963. Before coming to Detroit he had worked as an editor for the Indianapolis, Ind. News-Times. He was born in Tipton, Ind.

After retiring he could not stay away from the profession to which he had devoted his life. He served four years as publications editor at Wayne State University in liaison with outstate newspapers and also represented the university in dealings with governmental bodies in Lansing. Until a few weeks ago he had worked as an editor for the Observer Newspapers in northwestern Wayne County.

In his job as state editor for the News, Reed was in daily contact with the numerous outstate correspondents employed by the News.

'Pogo' Vs. Wallace

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The Birmingham News announced Friday it is dropping Walt Kelly's comic strip, "Pogo," through next week because of its lampooning of George C. Wallace.

The News said Kelly began a series of cartoon panels Thursday lampooning—"to an extent the news feels is unfair—third-party presidential candidate George Wallace."

The News, which has endorsed Republican Richard M. Nixon for president, said the strip would be resumed the following week.

Peanut Butter Jars Are Needed

LOVELL, Wyo. (AP) — Airport Manager Cal Taggart says he needs peanut butter jars to keep the field operational around the clock.

Vandals destroyed the light covers on the runway. Taggart said he found that 18-ounce peanut butter jars have lid threads which fit the runway light fixtures.

Bus Drivers Return At Clio

CLIO (AP) — Bus drivers in the Clio School District agreed Sunday to return to work today, ending a strike for higher pay which had closed schools in the district since last Wednesday. The decision was reached after negotiations with the school board.

The Clio Education Assn.—the teachers union, had urged the drivers to return to work. The teachers had honored picket lines set up by the drivers last week but earlier Sunday had voted to return to their classrooms in this morning regardless of the drivers' decision. However, the teachers added that if contract negotiations, which will continue with the drivers, are not settled by Nov. 9, the association "will consider new action."

Negotiations between the drivers and the school board resumed this morning with a state mediator participating in an effort to settle the dispute. The drivers' decision to return to their jobs headed off a possible showdown set for this afternoon. Earlier, the board had warned that if the drivers were not back on the job by 4 p.m. today, they would be fired.

Representatives Join In Matrimony

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Two former state representatives who sat on different sides of the aisle in the Illinois General Assembly said Friday they'll walk down the wedding aisle together.

The drivers' decision to return to their jobs headed off a possible showdown set for this afternoon. Earlier, the board had warned that if the drivers were not back on the job by 4 p.m. today, they would be fired.

Former Democratic Rep. William Pierce, 70, said he'll marry Mrs. Mabel Green, 63, a former Republican representative, sometime in early November.

Both are from Rockford and served seven terms in the state legislature during the 1950s and early 1960s. It will be the second marriage for both.

Party Mistaken For Bank Hold-Up

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP) — Officers were called when neighbors watched a masked youth carry what appeared to be a rifle into the First State Bank of Centralia.

Police with rifles and shotguns surrounded the structure as two armed officers entered.

Inside they found a Halloween masquerade party sponsored by the First Christian Church of Centralia. The bank had granted the church's Sunday School permission to use the facilities.

4 Educators Seek State Board

LANSING (AP)—Four educators—two of them attractive women—will represent the major parties in the statewide race for two seats on the State Board of Education Nov. 5.

Also at stake are two eight-year terms each on the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, the University of Michigan Board of Regents and the Wayne State University Board of Governors.

Each board includes six members whose terms do not expire at the end of the year.

Seeking re-election to an eight-year state board term is Marilyn Jean Kelly, a Detroit Democrat. Miss Kelly—now Mrs. Richard Stout but running under her maiden name—first was elected to a four-year board term in 1964.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan University with a master's degree from the Sorbonne, Miss Kelly has taught at EMU and now studies law at Wayne State.

Miss Kelly's feminine opposition comes from Mrs. Don (Barbara) Dumouchelle, a long-time Republican Party worker from Grosse Ile. Mrs. Dumouchelle—appointed in 1964 to the state school district reorganization committee by Gov. George Romney—has taught in both public and nonpublic schools. She holds a bachelor's degree from Sienna Heights College and did graduate work at MSU.

State Take Over
On a top priority board question—state school financing—Mrs. Dumouchelle has warned against the "danger" of the state taking over local boards.

No level of government provides finances without providing controls, he said, urging maintenance of local property tax financing.

"The threat of state controls," Miss Kelly said, "pales before the very real prospect" of cuts in service at the local level because of short money.

"State controls just aren't that much a bogus," she said, adding that the state now contributes more than 49 per cent of the cost of education, but "doesn't begin to exercise that much control."

Democrat Michael Deeb of Highland Park and Republican James Ten Brink of Muskegon, also seek board seats. Incumbent Democrat Carmen Delli Quadri of Houghton, did not seek re-election.

Superintendent
Deeb, 33, teaches at Highland Park Community College, directs Citizens for Humphrey efforts in the metropolitan Detroit area and sponsors Michigan Teen Dems and Young Democrats groups. He holds a bachelor's degree from Aquinas College and a master's from MSU.

Ten Brink, 62, retires this year as superintendent of the Muskegon Area Intermediate School District and is past president of both the Michigan Association of Intermediate School Administrators and the Michigan Rural Teachers Association. He holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Hope College.

Of the six remaining board members, four are Democrats, two Republicans. They receive $60 for each day of board work, plus expenses.

No incumbents seek re-election to the MSU Board of Trustees. C. Allen Harlan withdrew before the Democratic State Convention selected its nominees and fellow Democrat Connor Smith is campaigning for the House of Representatives.

In 1933, he became principal of the Rapid River schools and in 1936 he was appointed superintendent at Rapid River. During summer vacations while at Rapid River, he attended the University of Michigan and earned his master's degree.

One of the first Eagle Scouts in Delta County, Cameron retained his interest in the Boy Scout program and was a member of the Boy Scout Committee. He also was active in the youth camp in Iron County, Camp Ba-Ta-Wa-Ga-Ma.

Interested in athletics, Cameron served as an official in Upper Peninsula high school contests for many years and at Gladstone has handled the public address system at Gladstone football games.

He was a member of Memorial Methodist Church, the Gladstone Rotary Club, Gladstone Masonic Lodge, National Education Association and was an honorary life member of SPEBSQSA, national barber-shop quartet singing organization.

He had traveled widely throughout the United States and the world and shared his experiences with many community organizations through slide presentations and talks.

Survivors include his wife, the former Ruth L. Glerum of Zeeland, Mich., whom he married Jan. 29, 1936, at Zeeland; two daughters, Mrs. Charles (Mary) Nebel of Munising and Mrs. William (Lorna) Addison of Ann Arbor; two grandchildren; three brothers, Percy of Flint, Howard of Hollywood, Fla., and George of Boca Raton, Fla.; and one sister, Mrs. John Flannery of Gladstone.

Three Injured As Auto Swerves To Avoid Deer

Three persons were injured Saturday when William J. Germaine, 19, of 1304 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone, swerved his car trying to avoid a deer on County Rd. 509 about 17 miles north of Rapid River.

State Police said Germaine swerved the wheel and the car ran into a clump of trees. Germaine and two passengers, Robert Williams, 31, of Rte. 1, Rapid River, and John Maki, 18, of 324 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone, were hurt in the accident. All sought their own treatment for injuries, officers said.

Troopers also said Warren Wandahsega, 20, of Rte. 1, Wilson, suffered minor injuries about 4:45 a.m. Saturday when his car hit the rear of a car driven by Clyde Stallings, Dallas, Tex., on U.S. 2 and 41 west of the Hannanville Rd. Wandahsega was ticketed for reckless driving and no operator's license.

Escanaba Lions Honor Four Men, Charter Members

Four charter members of the Escanaba Lions Club were honored Saturday night for 34 years of service to the club and community.

The four men were members of the Lions Club when it organized in Escanaba 34 years ago. All are still members of the club.

Bink and Meiers attended the Ladies Night program. Goulais is in Florida and Asp was unable to attend because of health reasons.

Man, 23, Shoots Himself In Foot

Louis E. Tryan, 23, of Rte. 1, Escanaba, remained in St. Francis Hospital this morning under treatment for a gunshot wound in his right foot.

State Police of the Gladstone Post said Tryan accidentally shot himself in the foot with a .22 caliber pistol Sunday afternoon at the Robert Boucher residence near Kiva. Troopers said Tryan and Boucher were target shooting near the home and that Tryan apparently triggered the weapon while he was holding it at his side.

"when the Times claims that Gov. Agnew owned the property while he was governor, that was not the case."

This was the only specific point on which he challenged the editorial.

In its news columns last Tuesday, the Times said Agnew agreed in 1966—before his inauguration as governor—to sell the bridge approach property. It said the land actually was sold to his partners in the venture on Oct. 31, 1967—after he was governor—for his original purchase price of $34,200.

Nixon said in defense of Agnew that his running mate has demonstrated in the campaign that he can take political heat. He went on:

"I have made some mistakes; he has made some mistakes. And when he makes them or I make them, I think we try to get up and say, well, we admit them and try to correct them. But he is a strong man... I am very proud to be on the ticket with him."

Made View Clear

The GOP candidate also was questioned about a statement Friday in which he raised, and rejected, charges of "a cynical, last-minute attempt by President Johnson to salvage the candidacy of Mr. Humphrey" by arranging a Vietnam bombing halt and perhaps a cease-fire.

Nixon said he issued the statement because of news accounts and "a great deal of discussion" that this might be the case.

"It seemed to me," he said, "that I was being quite responsible in nailing that and making it clear that I did not share the views of those that thought the President would use these negotiations politically."

Johnson attacked Nixon's statement in a speech to Democratic workers here Sunday. Nixon said, "I would think the President would be thanking me rather than attacking me."

Corrinne Wunder And Richard Cayer Are Wed

Salem Evangelical Lutheran Church in Escanaba was the setting Saturday, Oct. 26 for the wedding of Corrinne Wunder of Escanaba Rte. 1 and Richard Cayer of Rapid River. The Rev. John J. Wendland officiated at the double ring nuptials at 2 p.m. Large bouquets of fall colored mums adorned the altar for the service.

Soloist for the wedding was Mrs. Gerald Martin and providing traditional organ music was Mrs. Henry Ottensman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Viau of Rte. 1 Escanaba and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cayer of Rapid River.

Applied Lace

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, James Wunder of Green Bay, selected a floor length white crepe sheath gown fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, long tapered sleeves of applied lace and a full length chapel train styled with wide borders of applied lace.

A single forward butterfly rose headpiece secured her elbow length illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of red and white roses.

Maid of honor for her sister was Chris Wunder of Escanaba and bridesmaids were Mrs. Dan Wellman of Bark River, sister of the bride and Mrs. Kenneth Lanaville of Perronville, sister of the bridegroom.

Forest Green

They were identically attired in floor length sheath gowns of forest green saki material styled with scoop necklines, long sleeves and flowing back panels secured by three roses of matching fabric.

Matching blusher veils completed their attire and they carried mum bouquets in fall shades.

Tammy Wunder of Escanaba, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl and was attired in a miniature replica of the bride's gown. Carrying the wedding rings was Steven Wunder of Fond du Lac, Wis., a nephew of the bride.

"Caroline kept tossing it in the air so her cousins could watch the flashes of light which tumbled like imprisoned fireflies."

"The children themselves were soon treated to presents of their own which took their minds off the ring."

So that no one went home empty-handed, the story said, Onassis had Athens jeweler Zolatos send a sample of valuable trinkets which the guests could select as mementoes.

About 17 per cent of New York City's 320 square miles is man-made land, reclaimed from marshes and underwater land.

Gordon Cayer of Rock served as bestman for his brother and further attending the bridegroom were Kenneth Lanaville of Perronville and Dan Wellman of Bark River. Seating the guests were John Wunder of Escanaba and Gary Cayer of Rock.

Mother's Attire

Mrs. Viau selected for her daughter's wedding a three piece brown suit with a multi-colored feather hat and orange accessories. Mrs. Cayer wore a three piece beige suit with brown accessories and both mothers were presented mum corsages.

The wedding reception was held following the ceremony at the Bark River Town hall. After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the newlyweds will reside in Gladstone. The bride is a 1968 graduate of Escanaba Area High School.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wunder of Fond du Lac, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wunder of Saginaw, Mr. and Mrs. Roy LaValley and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Viau of Racine, Wis.

Priceless Ring Is Jackie's Wedding Gift

WASHINGTON (AP) — "You be worth around 1.2 million dollars,"

Speaks First

"The adults were silent. It was (her daughter) Caroline who ran forward and spoke for them all," the story said.

"Mummy, mummy, mummy!" she cried. "They're so pretty. . . you're so pretty."

Maxine Cheshire, writing from Athens in Thursday's Washington Post, described Onassis' wedding present of a priceless set of heart-shaped rubies surrounded by diamonds to his bride.

Hard To Believe

"The spectacle which caused every person of every age in the room to gasp was the Onassis' jewels, which even Mrs. Onassis' mother found it hard to believe were real," she wrote.

The "almost too large to lift" stone in the ring was surrounded by dozens of diamonds, she said. "From her earlobes were suspended identical heart-shaped rubies, a size and quality that might come from a millionaire's treasure-cask, and surrounded by diamonds. They hung from Cabochon rubies that were also surrounded by Ala Baba 'Open Sesame' kinds of diamonds."

She wrote that Paris newspapers speculated the jewels would

Eskymos Complete Undeclared Grid Season

Final Victory Posted Over Holy Name, 48-7

By MIKE UTT
Press Sports Editor

A savage defense and a potent offense resulted in a resounding 48-7 victory for the Escanaba Eskymos over the Holy Name Crusaders in a game played Saturday afternoon at the Holy Name Athletic Field which ended the 1968 grid season for both teams.

The Escanaba defense, led by the outside rush of ends John Moberg and Steve Stropich, stopped the Crusader ground game, stopping them for -127 yards rushing and only 61 yards total offense in the whole game. Holy Name could only move effectively through the air, where quarterback Don Cousineau hit on nine of 26 passing attempts for 188 yards.

The Eskymo offense accounted for 290 yards rushing and 71 passing in getting six touchdowns. The seventh touchdown was recorded on a pass interception by Greg Johnson. Johnson and Jim Olsen each had two touchdowns for Escanaba.

Escanaba scored on third series of downs in the first quarter after Ken Robitaille returned a Crusader punt 20 yards to the Escanaba 46. Three plays later the Eskymos had a first down on the Holy Name 31. Johnson's pass in the end zone to Moberg was knocked down by Tom Ness before carries by Robitaille and Olsen put the ball on the 15, where Johnson rolled around his right end for the touchdown. Dan Mylander's kick made the score 7-0.

Robitaille Scores

Escanaba got the ball again after recovering a fumble on the Holy Name 48. A pass to Moberg for 17 yards and an 18-yard jaunt by Olsen put the ball on the 13, from where, on the next play, Mylander scored a touchdown only to have it called back because of a clipping penalty. The Eskymo drive was stopped when Ness intercepted a pass in the end zone for a touchback.

Holy Name lost three yards before Joe Harvey tried a quick kick on third down that gave the Eskymos the ball on the Holy Name 35. On second down Robitaille reeled off an 18-yard run to the 16 and Johnson carried to the eight before Robitaille rambled the final eight yards for the touchdown on a fourth down play. Mylander's kick gave the Eskymos a 14-point margin with 11:47 left to play in the half.

The Crusaders got possession of the ball on their own 30-yard line on the kickoff. Cousineau hit John Dailey at the 45-yard line for Holy Name's first first down of the game and an Eskymo penalty gave them another on the Escanaba 40. On second down, Cousineau's pass was intercepted by Johnson at the 40 and the Eskymo linebacker twisted and turned his way 60-yards down the field for the touchdown. Mylander added the extra point.

Another Eskymo drive later in the period was stopped at the Holy Name 11 when Crusader tackle Pete Ross fell on an Escanaba fumble, but the Crusaders were forced to give the ball back after failing to move the ball.

Escanaba took over at the Holy Name 31 yard line and got their fourth touchdown of the half in six plays as Olsen went the final yard for the touchdown. Mylander's point after attempt was blocked by Ross and the Eskymos held a 27-0 advantage at intermission.

First Points

Holy Name got their first points of the Great Northern Conference season at 5:58 of the third quarter as Tom Creten took a Cousineau pass and outran the Eskymo secondary for the touchdown, completing a 69-yard scoring play. Creten also kicked the extra point to cut the Eskymos margin to 27-7.

Holy Name goal line as Eskymos swooped down on the ball. In high school football, a kickoff which goes into the receiving team's end zone is an automatic touchback. Until then, after the ball travels 10 yards, it is a free ball and Escanaba came within a single turn of the football of recovering it just short of the goal line. In college or professional football, the Eskymos would have scored a touchdown.

Guard John Mileski, an all-conference and all-penninsula prospect, kicked the extra point after Escanaba's seventh touchdown, scooping the ball through the uprights from a soccer-style approach. Dan Mylander converted after five of the six other scores, missing only at the north end of the field when holder Bob Gauthier had trouble placing the ball on the tee.

Holy Name's touchdown was the first the Crusaders produced in five conference games. "We worked on that play all week," said Jim Pinar, Escanaba assistant coach. "We got caught watching the action of the play."

Cvengros said the scoring play for Holy Name came after a countering fake into the line and the Escanaba defensive backfield watched the play action while Cretens sprinted in to the clear.

Following the Holy Name touchdown, Escanaba charged right back for a countering score. Johnson hit Moberg for 46 yards with Moberg out-fighting the Holy Name secondary for the ball, then rumbling the remaining distance for the score.

"You dazzled them with your speed," Pinar grinned as Moberg, not the fastest of the Eskymos, trotted off the field.

Escanaba and Holy Name marching bands combined to entertain the large crowd with pre-game and halftime programs. The halftime show was built around an election year theme. Candidates from both Democratic and Republican parties were evident passing out campaign materials to fans.

"OLD NICK'S COPPER"

Miners of Saxony gave nickel its name when, in 1654, they were unable to smelt copper ores that—unknown to them—contained the metal. Thinking the devil had cursed their ore, they called the tough metal "kupfernickel" or "Old Nick's copper."

Forty-nine seconds later the Eskymos were on the scoreboard again. The scoring play came from the Holy Name 46-yard line on a pass from Johnson to Moberg. The pass looked like it was going to be intercepted but the big Eskymo end wrestled the ball away from the Crusader defender, turned upfield and raced to paydirt. Mylander's kick gave the Eskymos a 34-7 lead.

Escanaba scored again with 1:45 left in the quarter after forcing the Crusaders to punt from their own five yard line. The Eskymos got control of the ball on the Holy Name 32 and scored in four plays with Olsen bulling his way into the end zone from four yards out on the final play. Mylander kicked the extra point.

Holy Name stopped another Eskymo scoring threat at the nine yard line and moved to their own 40 on passes from Cousineau to Creten and Ness. The Eskymo defense stiffened and pushed Holy Name all the way back to the four with the aid of a penalty. Terry Brayak fell on a fumble at the four and Mike Dupont scored the final touchdown on the first play from scrimmage. John Mileski converted the extra point with his soccer style to give the Eskymos their 48-7 margin.

The victory gave Escanaba the Great Northern Conference championship with a 4-0-1 mark and upped their season record to 8-0-1 for their second undefeated season in a row and extending their unbeaten string to 20 games.

Holding the Crusaders to a -127 yards also broke the conference record for the least yards allowed in a game set earlier this season by the Eskymos when they stopped Kingsford with a -46 yards rushing.

Scoring:
Esky — Johnson 16-yd. run (Mylander kick)
Esky — Robitaille 8-yd. run (Mylander kick)
Esky — Johnson 60-yd. pass interception (Mylander kick)
Esky — Olsen 1-yd. plunge (Kick blocked)

Esky — Moberg 46-yd. pass from Johnson (Mylander kick)
Esky — Olsen 4-yd. run (Mylander kick)

Wolverines Smell Roses After Dumping Gophers

ANN ARBOR (AP) — No one was quite sure what was in the Little Brown Jug, but whatever it was it smelled like rose water to the Michigan Wolverines as they won a surprisingly easy 33-20 Big Ten football game against Minnesota Saturday.

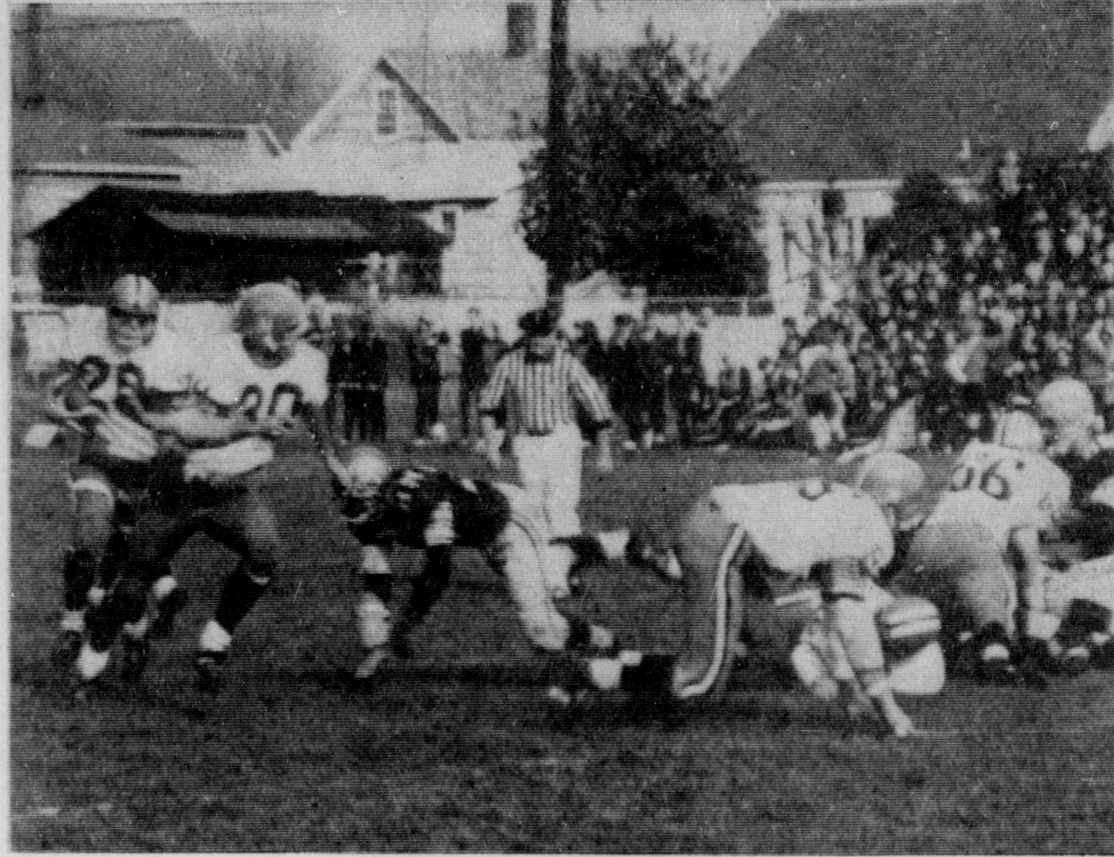

The victory returned the fifth to Ann Arbor and was the first straight win for the Rose Bowl hopeful Wolverines, whose only major obstacle to a trip to Pasadena, Calif., next New Year's Day seems to be Ohio State.

Halfback sensation Ron Johnson said the momentum of the five wins will carry Michigan "all the way down to Columbus," where the Wolverines play the Buckeyes on the last game of the season.

The Minnesota game was expected to be closer than it was and the winner was expected to have a good chance of winning the conference title.

But the Golden Gophers couldn't get anywhere the first three quarters against Michigan's alert and determined defense, and the Wolverines' offense took advantage of every opportunity to show their power as they led 30-0 at halftime.

It was the fine signal calling of Brown and the hard running of Johnson that proved no match for anything Minnesota could muster.

Grid Banquet Fetes Eskymos

Escanaba Eskymo football players, coaches and cheerleaders were honored Saturday evening at the annual Eskymo Fan Club's Football Banquet at the Starlite Room of Marco's Restaurant.

Bob Haack, chairman of the banquet, acted as Master of Ceremonies for the evening and welcomed all the fans who had turned out to honor the undefeated Eskymos. President "Flip" Cochrane was introduced and he thanked the Fan Club members for their services during the past year and explained how the Fan Club functions.

A song-fest, led by "Gump" Olson followed and "Gump" also relived some of the past using players and experiences from Eskymo football history.

Co-captains John Mileski and Greg Johnson were brought forward and they thanked the fans for backing the team through the season and expressed their appreciation for having the honor to be captains of the team. Mileski and Johnson were also named the most valuable players on the Eskymo team.

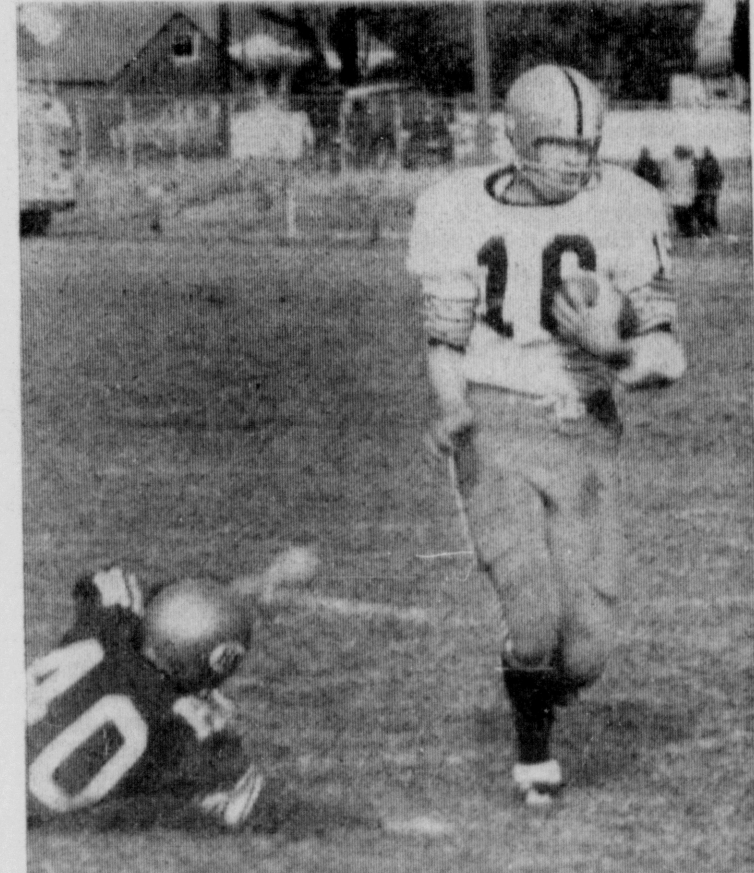

Head coach Jerry Cvengros introduced his coaching staff and gave special thanks to Band Director John Chown for making Saturday afternoons the spectacle they were.

Main speaker for the evening was John Lemmer, once superintendent of the Escanaba schools. Lemmer traced the history of Escanaba High School football and also relived some of his past experiences when he played on the St. Joe varsity team.

Mr. Lemmer reminded the players of how important athletics were to a school and reminded the parents that "The few dollars saved by eliminating athletics and band is not worth the lives of the students participating."

The next function by the Eskymo Fan Club is to take the senior members of the football team on a trip to Madison, Wis., to see a Big Ten football game between Indiana and Wisconsin and to tour the Wisconsin campus.

MSU meanwhile has managed eight wins against Notre Dame in the enlarged Spartan Stadium with Notre Dame's last victory at East Lansing coming in 1949. There also was a 10-10 tie in the stadium in 1966.

Spartans Hand Irish Bitter 21-17 Defeat

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) —Notre Dame is credited with giving Michigan State a major assist in the Big Ten and big time football.

The Irish must have developed some misgivings about their Good Samaritan role, since, especially after the bitter 21-17 loss to the Spartans before a packed house of 77,339 Saturday.

Notre Dame agreed to revive an old football rivalry with Michigan State on a regular basis starting in 1948. The assured income enabled MSU to gamble on a stadium enlargement. This recognition of the Spartans as a football power also helped them to be accepted into the Big Ten.

MSU meanwhile has managed eight wins against Notre Dame in the enlarged Spartan Stadium with Notre Dame's last victory at East Lansing coming in 1949. There also was a 10-10 tie in the stadium in 1966.

Notre Dame quarterback Terry Hanratty was as great as advertised, completing 27 of 43 passes for 312 yards. Ten of his throws were taken by end Jim Seymour for 141 yards.

But Hanratty could put together only one sustained scoring march, a 67-yarder in the first period. The other Irish touchdown came when Bob Kuechenberg recovered a fumble by MSU quarterback Bill Triplett in his end zone. Notre Dame also added a 33-yard field goal by Scott Hempel. Triplett, a sophomore starting for just the second time, completed only six of 11 passes for 93 yards. The youngster, however, directed his team down for three hard-earned touchdowns. The first came after coach Duffy Daugherty gambled on MSU recovering an onside kick at the kickoff and won.

Six plays covered 42 yards with Tommy Love carrying in for the touchdown.

Again in the second period nine plays covered 65 yards with Triplett sneaking in for the last two. The final MSU scoring surge went 80 yards and Love busted in from the one for the score. Love, also a sophomore, had an even 100 yards rushing in the game.

Al Brenner of Niles, the versatile end who plays both offense and defense, received the game ball.

Brenner saved the game for MSU twice in the last few minutes, knocking down a Hanratty pass in the end zone to stop one threat and tackling Hanratty just in front of the goal line to make him fumble to thwart the final Irish scoring attempt.

Notre Dame coach Ara Parseghian was vocally bitter after the game about the officiating. He contended that MSU defensive back Ken Heft hit Seymour before a pass throw reached him during one of the Spartan goal line stands.

If interference had been called, Notre Dame would have been on the 1-foot line. But the field judge following the play and fell—so that break went against the Irish.

There also were some loud complaints against the officiating from the Michigan State bench during the game. MSU partisans said that several plays before the Notre Dame touchdown on a fumble recovery, it should have been ruled that the ball bounced into the end zone giving State possession on the play.

Braves Close Season With 58-12 Victory

GLADSTONE — The Gladstone Braves closed the 1968 grid season with a 58-12 thumping of the Stephenson Eagles Saturday afternoon at the Marble Athletic Field, giving them an 8-1 season record.

The Braves started out with a big 25 point lead in the first quarter and added 14 points in the second, 13 in the third and six in the fourth in recording their 58 points and Stephenson scored six points in each of the final two periods.

Halfback Rick Lorenson scored two touchdowns in the big first quarter on runs of twelve and eleven yards and Bob Carlson scored another on a 22-yard run and Steve Nelson added the final touchdown on a ten-yard pass from Bruce Richards. Ralph Dollhopf converted one of four extra points to put the Braves way out in front.

Coach Don Pfothbauer substituted freely in the second quarter but the Gladstone scoring machine still couldn't be stopped. Reserve fullback Pat Cole scored on a one-yard plunge and Bart Stupak scored another touchdown on a 22-yard pass from quarterback Cliff Young. Dollhopf added both extra points and Gladstone carried a 39-0 lead into the dressing room at half-time.

On the first play of the third quarter Carlson burst into the open and scored a 73-yard run and Dollhopf converted to make the score 46-0. Still giving everyone a chance to play in the final game, Pfothbauer sent his reserves into the ball game again and they responded with another score, this time with John Skellenger scoring on a 20-yard run. Dollhopf's kick missed the mark.

In the fourth quarter Richards was sent into the game after Young was injured and Richards scored the final Gladstone touchdown from a yard out. Dollhopf's kick again missed the mark and Gladstone had 58 points on the board.

Stephenson's only touchdowns came on a four-yard run by Byron Lord and a three-yard pass from Dennis Alexjun to Darrell Freis. A running play and a pass play failed on the extra point attempts.

Gladstone piled up 411 yards on the ground and 82 yards passing in the victory. Carlson was the leading gound gainer with 223 yards in twelve carries and Skellenger chipped in with 84 yards in 11 trips. Stupak caught two passes for 53 yards Nelson hauled in a pair for 19 yards to lead the Braves' pass receivers.

Stephenson only managed to pick up 58 yards in the game as the Gladstone defense led by Mike Quinn and Skellenger stopped them cold. Quinn and Skellenger each got six tackles while Craig Johnson, Steve Maniaci, Mike Lagina, Ed Hart, Dean Culliton, Bruce Erickson and Dollhopf all had five tackles.

Americans Get Record 45 Gold Medals

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Big George Foreman stood there in the center of the ring, a tiny American flag clutched in his huge black fist; a battered, bleeding Russian hulking nearby—a near-perfect symbol of American domination of the 19th Olympic Games.

Foreman, a 6-foot-3, 218-pounder, held aloft the little flag—a broad grin on his face—as he accepted America's record 45th gold medal after demolishing Iones Cepulis for the heavy-weight boxing championship, the last event on the last full day of competition in the trouble-riddled Games.

His victory was icing on the cake for the Yankee team which collected a total of 107 medals and clearly outscored the Soviets in total medals for the first time since the Russians entered the Games at Helsinki in 1952.

Russia finished with a total of 92 medals, 30 of them gold. In 1964 at Tokyo Russia led in total medals 96-90 while the United States led in golds, 36-30.

Naturally enough, there was an excuse for the Russian showing this year. It came from Gabriel Korobkov, the Soviet's track and field coach.

"Most of the world lives downstairs. They hold the Games upstairs," he said, referring to the 7,347-foot altitude of Mexico City. "It throws the Games out of balance."

Perhaps a more accurate explanation would be found in the almost incredible performance of the United States' swimming and diving team, along with the gymnastic exploits of Vera Caslavskaya of Czechoslovakia—the sweetheart of the Games—and Japan, which cut heavily into the Russian potential total.

The United States' swimmers and divers bagged 23 of the 33 gold medals and a total of 47 of the 89 medals up for grabs. Twelve more golds came in men's track and field, and three more in women's track and field—where the Russians failed to score a single gold.

The Americans also picked up two golds in boxing, two in sailing, one each in shooting and equestrian. And Henry Iba's superbly coached, pick-up basketball team, spurned by many of the top collegiate stars, continued its unbeaten string.

The U.S. basketball squad won the gold in convincing fashion, whipping Yugoslavia 65-50 in the final game behind the superlative play of Spencer Haywood.

World records, most of them by Americans, fell almost as quickly as arose controversies, incidents and demonstrations.

In the latter category, the most flagrant was by American sprinters Tommie Smith and John Carlos, both Negroes, who finished 1-3 in the 200-meter dash.

On the victory podium, after receiving their medals, they raised a black-gloved fist as a sign of racial protest and refused to look at the American flag as the Star Spangled Banner was played.

There were hints of under-the-counter payoffs to athletes by manufacturers of athletic goods, charges of fixed wrestling matches, a Dutch masseur was sent home for giving vitamins to his cyclists, a Bulgarian wrestler was disqualified for sniffing smelling salts.

Problems, large and small, plagued the Games throughout. But, in the end, the Games belonged to the athletes.

And there America stood supreme.

The United States' athletes broke or tied eight world records in track and set four more in swimming.

By far the most outstanding record was a fantastic, 29 feet 2½ inch long jump by Bob Beamon of El Paso, Tex., breaking by almost two feet the previous record, a record that usually is increased by fractions on inches.

Al Oerter, 32, West Islip, N.Y., scored his fourth consecutive victory in the discus, a feat unmatched in history by a track and field athlete. His 212-6½ toss was about two feet better than he had ever thrown in his life and set an Olympic mark.

Bob Seagren, Los Angeles, won the pole vault at 17-8½. Lee Evans, San Jose, Calif., led a 1-2-3 U.S. sweep in the 400 meters, the Americans won both relays; Wyomia Tyus, Griffin, Ga., repeated as women's 100-meter champion and anchored a winning 400-meter relay team.

The most dominant force in the Games, however, had to be the American swimmers. The U.S. water sprites, many of them teen-agers, swept to 1-2-3 finishes in five events and collected at least one medal in every one of the 33 championships.

Attracting just as much attention was America's basketball team, never beaten in Olympic competition. But this year, lacking most of the top collegiate stars, a rag-tag collection that many predicted would end American domination of the sport.

But Iba molded them into a precision outfit, the same play-for-the-good-shot team that has brought him more than 700 victories at Oklahoma State.

"We knew we were an underrated team," said Haywood a junior college player and the teams leading scorer and rebounder. "We felt we had something to prove." They proved it.

Offensive Line Sparks Colts Over Los Angeles

By The Associated Press
The Forgotten Five Plus One isn't a Dixieland band, just some offensive linemen whose play sounded a happy note for the Baltimore Colts in the National Football League.

"The only time our offensive line gets publicized is when we face the Rams or we break down on a play," tackle Sam Ball said Sunday after he and his mates sparked the Colts to a 27-10 victory over Los Angeles.

Baltimore now is tied at 6-1 with the Rams for first place in the Coastal Division.

In a key game tonight, the struggling Green Bay Packers, fighting for a fourth straight NFL title, meet the Cowboys in Dallas.

A victory would move the Packers, 2-3-1, into a first-place tie with Detroit in the Central Division. A loss will leave them in last place. Dallas will be gunning for a 7-0 record and for a measure of revenge against the Packers, who have beaten them in the last two league championship games.

Elsewhere in the NFL Sunday, San Francisco, 4-3, upset Detroit, 3-3-1, 14-7; Chicago, 3-4, surprised Minnesota, 3-4, 26-24; St. Louis, 4-3, beat New Orleans, 3-4, 31-17; Cleveland, 4-3, trounced Atlanta, 1-6, 30-7; the New York Giants, 5-2, edged Washington, 3-4, 13-10, and Pittsburgh, 1-6, topped Philadelphia, 0-7, 3-0.

Baltimore's defense was brilliant against Los Angeles, but it was the Colts' six interior offensive linemen, including two centers, outplayed the Rams' vaunted front four—the keystone of the league's leading defense—that paved the way for the victory.

Earl Morrall passed for two touchdowns and ran for another as the Colts built up a 20-3 halftime lead. Roman Gabriel passed for the Rams' score.

Traditionally, a winning pro football team presents a ball to a player who turned in an outstanding performance. The Colts presented balls to the six interior linemen.

End Dick Witcher picked up a fumble by teammate Gary Lewis and ran 12 yards for the fourth-period touchdown that got San Francisco over Detroit, which is alone in first place in the Central Division pending the outcome of the Green Bay game.

Chicago moved into a second-place deadlock with Minnesota in the Central when Mac Percival kicked his fourth field goal of the game, a 47-yard boot, with three seconds left. Percival now has kicked nine field goals without a miss in the last two games.

St. Louis exploded for 21 points in the last quarter to remain in a first-place tie with Cleveland in the Century Division and drop New Orleans into third, Jim Hart's 53-yard touchdown pass to Dave Williams broke a 17-17 tie for St. Louis. Leroy Kelly ran for two touchdowns and Bill Nelsen passed for another in Cleveland's romp over Atlanta.

The Giants, second to Dallas in the Capitol Division, launched an 80-yard touchdown drive in the fourth quarter to beat Washington. Tucker Frederickson scored the winner on a one-yard plunge.

Pittsburgh gained its first victory and kept Philadelphia winless by taking advantage of an Eagle game that failed. Philadelphia tried for a first-down on their own 10-yard-line with less than a yard to go and less than a minute left. Pittsburgh stopped the attempt and then won on Booth Lustig's 15-yard field goal.

Detroit Offense Fails In Defeat

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Lions Coach Joe Schmidt said he warned his players to watch out for San Francisco but that they apparently didn't put much stock in the advice. The result was a 14-7 National Football League loss to the 49ers Sunday.

"I warned the team that this was a good football team and we needed to play well like we did the past few weeks, but we didn't," Schmidt said.

"We were lucky the defense played as well as it did because otherwise the score would have been much bigger than it was."

Detroit's defensive line put a hard rush on 49er quarterback John Brodie for most of the game but it wasn't enough as the defensive backfield faltered and the offense played its worst game of the year.

It was a 65-yard scoring pass from Brodie to flanker Cliff McNeil and the point after kick by Dennis Patera that put San Francisco out in front 7-0 in the first quarter. McNeil, the NFL's leading receiver, beat Lion defensive halfback Lem Barney by a step at the Detroit 34 to haul in the pass and slip away for the score.

McNeil said he was lucky to have gotten that one step beyond Barney. Barney said McNeil was behind him because he (Barney) was trying for an interception.

But it was Barney who evened the touchdown tally in the third quarter by racing 94 yards for a score after catching a short field goal attempt by Patera at the Lions' six. Jerry DePoyster booted the extra point.

San Francisco's winning touchdown came at 5:35 in the fourth quarter as end Dick Witcher scooped up a fumble by teammate Gary Lewis at the Detroit 12-yard line and rushed in for the score. Lewis had caught a 31-yard pass from Brodie before being jarred by a strong tackle.

Munson couldn't get Detroit's offense rolling at all. The Lions were shaken right at the start by the loss of Mel Farr due to an injury. Farr hurt his left ankle on the third play of the game and missed nearly the entire game thereafter.

Defensive tackle Charlie Krueger led the rush on Munson, with strong support coming from Stan Hindman, Clark Miller and Roland Lakes. Krueger pounced on a Detroit fumble by Munson in the second quarter and lumbered 22 yards.

Late in the game Brodie fired a long pass incomplete to McNeil and Detroit halfback Mike Weger was accidentally tripped by a referee in an effort to intercept.

"I think he was just turned around and I was up on him," Weger said, both angrily and apologetically. "I think I could have gotten it. It was going deep to the goalpost and I was behind McNeil and going full speed. He (the referee) said he was sorry but what good is that."

Despite the loss Detroit still has at least a tie for first place in the Central Division with a 3-3-1 record, pending the outcome tonight of the Dallas-Green Bay game. Green Bay is 2-3-1 and Minnesota fell to Chicago 26-24 to drop to 3-4.

Toronto Notches 3rd Straight NHL Victory

By The Associated Press
The inventive mind of Punch Imlach stays one step ahead of the Toronto Maple Leafs and the elderly Maple Leafs are only one step away from the National Hockey League's East Division lead.

"I was the first one to use the two-goalie system," grinned Imlach impishly. "Now I'll be the first with the three-goalie system."

Punch used his third netminder in as many games Sunday night and came away a winner for the third straight time when the Leafs whipped New York 5-3. Combined with Montreal's first loss of the season, 4-2 at Boston, it left Toronto just two points out of first place.

In other Sunday night games, Gordie Howe scored twice and Detroit edged Chicago 4-3, and Philadelphia and Oakland played a 2-2 tie.

On Saturday, Toronto, with goalie Johnny Bower making his first start of the season, shut out Boston 2-0. New York blanked Minnesota 3-0, Los Angeles ripped Philadelphia 6-2 and Pittsburgh stopped St. Louis 4-2.

With Bower coming off a shutout Saturday night, the Rangers expected to see 44-year-old Johnny in the nets Sunday. But Imlach left the old fellow in Toronto, announced that Al Smith, a rookie who worked Toronto's first four games, would start, and then sent Bruce Gamble out.

It was Imlach who brought the two-goalie system into style by sharing the work load between Bower and Terry Sawchuk a few years ago. Now all NHL teams carry two goalies and most split the netminding work. Only Imlach has three.

Boston put an end to Montreal's six-game unbeaten streak with two goals by Fred Stanfield carrying the Bruins past the Canadiens.

Howe, turned two Alex Delvecchio setups into his third and fourth goals of the season as the Red Wings whipped Chicago. The Hawks made it close when the Hull brothers, Bobby and Dennis, scored 43 seconds apart midway through the third period.

Stan Mikita, the NHL's leading scorer, hit his fifth goal and 16th point of the season for Chicago while Gary Unger and Frank Mahovlich were Detroit's other scorers.

Plan Excavation Of Chief's Grave

CHARLOTTE, S.C. (AP) — Paul C. Swartz, superintendent of Ft. Moultrie—Ft. Sumter National Monument, says the grave of Chief Osceola will be excavated to determine if the remains of the Seminole war leader are gone.

Otis W. Shriver, a Miami businessman, said he dug up the remains on Jan. 7, 1966 and returned them to Florida because he believed the chief should be buried in Florida with appropriate honors. He said he deposited the remains in a Miami bank vault.

"Depending on what is found within the grave," Swartz said Sunday, "the federal government could take two courses of action—suing for robbing a grave on federal property or providing evidence for a case of fraud." The grave is at Ft. Moultrie.

STRETCHING A POINT

NEW DELHI (AP)—Woman was compared to a rubber tree by Hem Barua, Socialist member of Parliament.

Barua quoted former Indonesian president Sukarno as having said "women after 30" were useless. He said rubber trees are also useless after 30 and asked if the Indian government was taking proper steps to replace aging rubber trees.

Another member asked "Is it a fact that a woman is useless after 30?"

Wildcats Upset By Dales, 10-7

By The Associated Press
Ask Hillsdale College football coach Frank "Muddy" Waters
what is the clearest, most beautiful sight he's seen lately. And he's sure to reply that it's watching youths become men.
And that's what his young
Hillsdale squad did to upset
Northern Michigan, the seventh ranked team in the Associated Press small college football poll
10-7 at Hillsdale Saturday.
"It was a long, hard effort of rebuilding," Waters said after the game. "We did it with a lot of freshmen. We are a far better ball club than our record (now 3-3) indicated and a lot of people believe," he said.
Chet Marcol kicked a 21-yard field goal in the fourth quarter to break a tie and provide Hillsdale's victory edge.
The Hillsdale coach said after the upset victory that "We are no longer making mistakes that hurt us in past games. We only had one fumble in this game and that set up the only Northern Michigan touchdown."
He attributed a lot of success to what he said was his excellent defensive backfield. None of them are seniors.
Last week, Hillsdale was ranked 19th in the NAIA in pass defense, allowing 72.8 yards per game to opponents. On Saturday, Hillsdale held Northern to only 52 yards in the air.

Santa's Special Will Carry Mail To Servicemen

Christmas parcels destined for servicemen in Vietnam must be mailed by Nov. 9 if they are to be carried there by the 1968 "Santa Claus Special," it is reported by Mrs. William E. Putler of Escanaba, national security chairman, Department of Michigan, American Legion Auxiliary.

The fast U.S. cargo ship will sail from Oakland, Calif., on Nov. 21 or 22 and will carry parcels to ports in Vietnam in sufficient time for delivery before Christmas. Fourth class parcels must be mailed by Nov. 9 — preferably earlier — and be endorsed on the outside "Santa Claus Special" above the address and below where the stamps are placed, she said.

The Armed Forces, in coordination with the Post Office Department developed the plan to transport parcel post packages to servicemen and women, stationed in the Republic of Vietnam, at a substantial savings to the general public as well as the government. The ship will have ports of call at Da Nang, Cam Ranh Bay, and Saigon, Vietnam.

SIGNED CHARTER

Edward R. Stettinius, then U. S. secretary of state, signed the United Nations charter for the United States. Former President Harry Truman witnessed the signing.

League Urges 'Yes' Vote On Water Bond

Some members of the League of Women Voters of Michigan couldn't care less about going fishing . . . quite a few would never set foot in a pair of water skis . . . there are even some who can't swim.

But, they all know and care about the need for clean water in Michigan.

Members of the League of Women Voters of Michigan are actively supporting passage of the Clean Water Bond Issue on the Nov. 5 ballot.

The problem of keeping present water resources unpolluted and the prevention of further deterioration has been a study item of the League of Women Voters of Michigan for the past 12 years. Representatives of the League of Women Voters have testified at hearings on the Lake Michigan and Lake Erie basins at both the state and federal level.

The League also has recently announced its support of the passage of the ballot issue calling for the amendment of the Michigan constitution to permit a graduated income tax.

The present Michigan constitution prohibits the levy of a graduated income tax.

Speaking for the League of Women Voters of Michigan, Mrs. Robert Foerch, president, said:

"League members believe Michigan should be able to levy a graduated income tax if necessary in the future. We feel the tax structure in Michigan should be adequate to provide necessary state services. The state-local tax structure should be equitable so that the tax burden falls fairly on people and their institutions, and flexible enough to meet changing needs and conditions.

"Legislative authority to levy a graduated income tax is an important tool which should be available for consideration in order to meet future needs of Michigan's rapidly increasing population," she said.

Partners Will Aid Honduras

A convoy of six large tractor-trailers valued at over $100,000 and loaded with donations of hospital, agricultural and school equipment and supplies valued at about $50,000 is leaving Michigan on Oct. 31 for British Honduras, a small Central American country soon to enjoy independence. These trucks are part of the Lansing Community College Driver Training Program and will be driven by student drivers the 4,000 miles (round-trip 8,000 miles) to British Honduras.

This trip represents the efforts of hundreds of Michigan citizens, companies and public institutions who believe that the private sector should be more actively involved in foreign aid. The Michigan Partners is a non-profit, non-partisan organization which is part of the Alliance for Progress established in 1961. There are 37 states in the United States with Partners in Latin America dedicated to the belief that the goals of the Alliance can best be achieved through direct participation by the private citizens of our country with Latin America to encourage the latter's social and economic development.

The Michigan Partners was organized on Feb. 24, 1966 by Gov. George Romney. Chairman is Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso, and vice-chairman and acting chairman is Chancellor Durward Varner of Oakland University.

Some of the key donated items being trucked to British Honduras are:

School furniture, books and equipment; hospital beds and bedding, an X-ray machine, operating table, washer, paint and compressor and oxygen equipment; two Ford tractors, a poultry feeder, sawmill, hammer-mill and two tons of fertilizer.

Two Survivors In Plane Crash

PARAMARIBO, Dutch Guiana (AP) — A search party today found two survivors and three bodies in the wreckage of a twin-engine KLM plane that crashed on an aerial survey mission Sunday in the western part of Dutch Guiana.

One of the dead men was Icelandic. All others aboard the plane were Dutch. A rescue official said one of the survivors was unhurt, and the other suffered minor injuries.

The cause of the crash was not immediately determined.

Oldsters Make Appalachian Hike

MILLINOCKET, Maine (AP) — Elmer L. Onstott and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Skinner arrived this weekend at Mt. Katahdin at the end of a 2,000-mile hike along the Appalachian Trail.

Onstott, 69, of Ferguson, Mo., was the first to arrive. He set out alone April 15 and crossed paths several times with the Skinners, of Englewood, N.J., who left April 1. Skinner is 65 and his wife is 57.

The hike began at Springer Mountain, Georgia, and ended at snowy Baxter Peak on Mt. Katahdin.
